

SUPPORT PLEDGED BY LLOYD GEORGE TO NEW MINISTRY

Former Premier Urges That United States and Britain Work Together.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—(By the Associated Press.) "I will support any party and any government that pursues a policy of peace, economy and steady progress, neither revolutionary nor reactionary, and does it efficiently," former Prime Minister Lloyd George told the Coalition Liberal members of Parliament at a meeting this morning.

Another part of his speech he made the declaration:

"Great Britain must pay America all her debts."

Referring to the Coalition government which he had headed, he said:

"We have stood for national unity—for unity of the men of all creeds, parties and sections."

"Our object was the winning of the war and afterwards extricating the country out of its after war difficulties. It was our policy then and is still our policy."

Referring to the Conservatives who broke away from the Coalition and by their defeat of Austen Chamberlain as Conservative leader brought about the accession of Andrew Bonar Law to the premiership, he said:

"I can understand the revolt of the under-achievers. There were subalterns who would like to be champions, and chiefs who would like to be made full generals."

"The country's interest is the thing that matters at the beginning, at the end and at all times."

"The Conservatives may win the next victory, I doubt that, but supposing they do; that is not the end of the war between the two great conflicting ideas of organization of society. Our business is to see that this blunder shall not do harm to our country."

Unity of action between Great Britain and the United States was urged by Lloyd George.

"I am for the League of Nations," he said, "but until you get the United States and all the great nations of Europe, as well as the small ones in, the League is crippled and cannot serve its full purpose."

"America and Great Britain must work together."

France Defended.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Considerable interest has been aroused by Viscount Grey's allusion, in his address at Bradford last night, that France has been let down by her allies since the World War.

Viscount Grey was British foreign secretary at the outbreak of the war, retiring upon the formation of the Lloyd George ministry in 1916.

"Before we criticize France's actions," he said, "let us realize the facts. When peace was concluded France had two agreements, one with Great Britain and one with the United States, that she would have the full support of Britain and America if attacked in the future by Germany."

"These were not included in the Treaty of Versailles, but they were as much a part of the peace as was the Treaty of Versailles. They made an enormous difference to France. They are gone. I admit it was not the fault of Lloyd George's government that they went, but it does not make it any better for France whose fault it was."

"The great deal of trouble there has been due to the fact that the whole peace must have worn a different aspect in her eyes when upon the two great safeguards, whereupon she must have so greatly relied, disappeared. If these agreements existed they would secure France now and for a decennium hence."

Viscount Grey added, however, that exclusive treaties could not assure permanent security and would lead to counter treaties and counter alliances; therefore, if France or any other country wanted security let it be brought about by strengthening the League of Nations and making that organization as all embracing as possible.

ANOTHER ADDRESS IN CITY MADE BY SINHA

The second address in this city in connection with the abolition of the present extensive use of opium was delivered by Tarini Prasad Sinha, executive secretary of the prohibition of drug and drink movement in India, at the Methodist Protestant Temple at 8 o'clock last evening. The first talk in connection with this work was made at the assembly of the Fairmont State Normal School yesterday morning.

Sinha's education was received in the Hindu University at Benares, where all subjects are taught in English. He later toured India in company with the vice-chancellor on a campaign for funds for this college. Following this work he came to the United States where he spent two years as a student in the University of Seattle in the state of Washington, working his way through the institution. Previous to the war he entered the University of London, later leaving there to volunteer for service before finishing the course.

He served in Flanders, France Egypt and Gallipoli. After being wounded and sent home he organized the Indian Boy Scouts' Association, previous to a tour of India to enlist volunteers for the World War. A famine relief expedition was conducted by Mr. Sinha in the Himalaya Mountains. Following the influenza scourge, where he played a prominent part in the relief work, Sinha organized an orphanage at Delhi for 168 babies, whose parents had succumbed to the disease.

Following the address made by Sinha, who is 27 years old, J. W. Langley, assistant superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Illinois, traveling in company with the former, addressed the assembly briefly.

Congressman Rosenbloom Here-- Confident of Republican Victory

BENJ. L. ROSENBLIOM

Recent developments in the Near East have made the League of Nations "a potato too hot to hold" for the Democratic party, according to Congressman Benjamin L. Rosenbloom, Republican candidate for re-election in the First Congressional District, who is in Fairmont today. Congressman Rosenbloom made this statement after calling attention to the fact that although the Democrats have been assailing the work of the Republican administration they themselves have offered no constructive program.

Congressman Rosenbloom also expressed his opposition to the cancellation of any foreign debts to the United States, at the same time pointing out the attitude of the Democratic leaders who have shown a marked tendency to favor the cancellation of the debts.

Emphasizing that the Senate will be Republican for next two years, as well as the administrative officials, and that a Democratic majority in the Lower House can only hamper the program of the Republican party, Congressman Rosenbloom declared, he was confident the people would return a Republican majority to the House of Representatives.

ORGANIZATION FOR DRIVE UNDER WAY

Citizens' Committee for Disabled Veterans to Be Headed by Major Smith.

The organization of the work for "Forget-Me-Not Day," to be celebrated next Saturday under the auspices and for the benefit of the Disabled Veterans of the World War Association is nearing completion. Maj. Earl H. Smith has been named chairman of the citizens' committee for the drive.

Major W. W. Conaway was recently named as honorary chairman of the drive.

The personnel of the citizens' committee will consist of former war workers, Liberty Loan and war activities aides, members of women's auxiliaries and ladies' clubs, young ladies' societies, Red Cross workers, school principals and teachers and other representative men and women of the community. The secretary and treasurer of this committee have not been named as yet.

The plan of campaign will consist of dividing the community into districts with teams to cover each section. About November 1 an intensive house-to-house and business establishment canvass will be held. Two members of the citizens' committee will interview in person the heads of firms, stores and households, securing their moral and financial co-operation as an effective foundation for the subsequent activities of November 1. Each team will be given proper credit for its efforts.

The citizens' committee or other organizations assisting in preparations for "Forget-Me-Not Day" will work through communication with the national headquarters of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War in the Bodmann Building at Cincinnati, Ohio, in connection with conducting the local campaign.

A number of interesting plans, featuring novel stunts, will be used in connection with the "Forget-Me-Not Day" drive during the coming week.

Friday evening the regular meeting of the local post will be held in the Red Cross rooms in the courthouse when the final plans for the big drive will be made.
